

Field specific competences

Master's Degree Programme in Digital Health

Field specific competences	Master level 7 – Description of the Competence
Digital Health Competence	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- is able to evaluate and develop new sustainable environments for the benefit of both patients/clients and multidisciplinary personnel- is able to evaluate, develop and manage personnel in diverse digitalized working environments- understands digital tools used in the care process
Health promotion Competence	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- understands the importance of planning and strategic thinking as a resource for building personalized eHealth promotion- can apply safe, evidence-based information and health solutions for better outcomes and wellbeing- can direct and manage change processes caused by new virtual elements and digital tools
Interdisciplinary partnership competence	<ul style="list-style-type: none">- can assess and make use of eHealth networks and partnerships and access entrepreneurial support resources- can direct and develop partner relationships- brings her/his expertise to interdisciplinary networks/groups