Field specific competences

Master's Degree Programme in Digital Health TYDI24SY, YADI24SY

Field specific competences	Master level 7 – Description of the Competence
Competence in digitalization expertise	- Ability to analyze, assess, and comprehensively develop digital solutions and their functionality in the social and healthcare sector. - Capability to innovate operational models and implement digital solutions into practice. - Competence to evaluate and promote the realization of ethical principles and values in the social and healthcare field, taking into account the principles of equality, especially from the perspective of digital services.
Utilizing digital methods and solutions in the development of social and healthcare processes	- Ability to utilize current digital solutions to support the customer/client process. - Proficiency in developing new customer-centric, sustainable, and economically viable digital methods, anticipating the future of the social and healthcare sector. - Capability to transform processes and methods to be customer-centric. - Competence in evaluating and applying evidence-based and reliable information in the design, use, and development of digital solutions
Interdisciplinary partnership competence	- Ability to create and develop national and international networks and partnerships to advance digitalization. - Proficiency in utilizing networks and partnerships in the development of digitalization in the social and healthcare sector